Dear Customer,

recently has become increasingly pressing the advertising conducted by different brands of fashion in order to eco-toxicological problems arising from the processes of textile production. ADMG supports the principle to limit in a reasonable time the use of substances that can cause these problems, and also in according to the deadlines set by the REACH European Regulation, is providing to find, if possible, the most suitable alternatives to replace them .

ADMG, also aware of the difficulties by customers to fully acknowledge these new demands and the consequent costs, wants to cooperate, reasonably based on its own competence, to the adherence to the new specifications.

For this purpose ADMG has signed a collaboration agreement with an accredited analysis laboratory that can give support in terms of certification of the substances contained in the products of its range to guarantee the observation of the limits required by those recent regulations.
